

July 9, 2008

In the Spotlight.....

Jesse Stover, our own Teton County Building Inspector is now LEED Certified. What does that mean you ask? According to Building Official Mark Antrobus it means it gives us the ability to have a redundant review, in other words if the county builds a green building we can be assured we are getting what we are paying for.

A BIG Thank You to Brian Tanabe and Lower Valley Energy for donating the Waste Not Wednesday Re-usable Bags!!

Gone Paperless Yet???

Most copiers around Town and County offices have the ability to scan documents in PDF format onto your computers. So with very little effort you can scan and create electronic rather than paper files. If you are not already incorporating this practice in your office contact your IT Department and they will help you get started.

Kudos to the Jackson Police Department for initiating the Bike Patrol for the summer. Along with saving the Department fuel they are getting their exercise too !!!!

Coming to a County Building Near You

The audits are done and the WYECIP contracts have been approved by the Commissioners which can only mean one thing....building upgrades in the not so distant future. Slated for improvements include Road and Levee, the Recycling Center and Engineering to name a few. Upgrades you may notice around some your facilities are window replacements, HVAC upgrades, insulation, window caulking and even some solar heat panel installations. Look for these and other upgrades in the months to come!!

Did You Know..... That an 8 minute shower emits 1,368 lbs of CO2? And if you lessen your shower by just 2 minutes you will save 342 lbs?

UPCOMING MEETING SCHEDULE

EEB Meeting
July 9 - 3:30-5:00
County Commissioners Chamber
Action Team Meetings
Communications Action Team
July 16 - 3:30-5:00-TOJ Conference Room

We welcome any suggestions, news from your departments or simply want to "toot your own horn" please e-mail your updates or ideas to either Jill Smith at Jackson Hole Fire/EMS at jsmith@tetonwyo.org or Roxanne Robinson in TOJ Administration at rrobinson@ci.jackson.wy.us.